After nearly two years in development and testing, Awake Software is preparing to release the beta version of 1Journal in December of 2010. Based on an extensive analysis of other available journal software (see our comparison at journals.us.com) along with the experience of developing the Awaken 98 dream journaling software, of keeping personal journals, Awake Software has developed desktop software for personal journaling of 1Journal.

The 1Journal name reflects the intention that it can be the one journal software package for all of your personal record-keeping needs. This initial beta roll-out (we will be calling it version 2.0, since it is similar to our previously released Awaken 98) will contain many great features, which will be described in detail on this website. And there are many more refinements planned for the future as well. We will do our best to ensure compatibility, so that no matter when you decide to start taking advantage of all the great capabilities of 1Journal, your journaling needs will be satisfied for a long time to come.
